doesn’t want a current councillor to take this on, he believes a new student could take on this role. He is still looking into the cricket match, O-week and spaces for postgraduate students. He is also hoping to grill CISA, who have not submitted their half yearly report yet. Melanie Stevenson (M. S.) enquired about the new electoral regulations. T. G. stated that the equity officer elections are still the same. D. S. asked if he could appoint the incoming as his deputy. As it stands, this would have to be a member of council.

4.3.3. OTHER BUSINESS FROM REPORTS

Ratified by council 14 February 2017
5. Postgraduate issues

5.1. Master of Marketing

Adriana Rey (A. R.) and Prachi Paliwal (P. P) spoke to the matter. They are international students who had issues with the website of their degree, and has encountered difficulties in the content of the website, especially regarding fees. They also spoke that the degree is outdated (they have learnt this in their undergraduate) and they have issues with networking and the possibility of employment. Many of the networking events have not occurred or have been lacklustre (some were only hiring domestic students). The website states $42,000 for 48 credit points, however, they need to take 12 credit points as a summer and winter course. This is $10,500 more than they believed they should pay. They only found out at the end of October for payment in December 2016 and July 2017. She stated that international students need to plan in advance and this has changed many plans. She stated that more than 10 students feel similar to her. They haven’t found a solution with the head of the program or the dean.

Karen Cochrane (K. C.) asked if they have gone to the NSW ombudsman, who may be able to help with this complaint. A. R. stated that they have presented the case to SUPRA SAAOs. Oliver Moore (O. M.) stated that they potentially have a case action lawsuit, similar to the business school case. Francine Seeto (F. S.) asked if they have considered changing to a different university. She also suggested taking a screenshot of the website. The students stated that they thought they’d provide a similar course, with similar prices. They had researched other universities, but USyd had a clear advantage with links to companies, however, this has not occurred.

F. S. stated that there are two issues here. One is consumer law (what the university states they are delivering vs what they actually are delivering). The second issue is whether or not it is fair to give short notice for the fees payable. The students state there has been no return communication from the university. F. S. suggested speaking to the SUPRA lawyer, as well as the registrar. T. G. stated that SUPRA has had some communication with the registrar regarding the business school. Rachel Evans (R. E.) stated that this is gross behaviour from a corporate university, she suggested getting people to speak at a rally, making it clear that the university can’t do this to international students. The two students stated that they needed to find a company to do the summer/winter courses and that the class is only on the weekend. R. E. stated that her, Dhaval, Ahmed and Karen will help the students liaise. Marguerite Biasatti (M. B.) suggested that the school thinks they’ll network with local students and use those contacts for companies. T. G. has stated he and Ahmed Suhaib (A. S.) have had 4-5 meetings regarding this topic.

6. Verbal report from staff member

F. S. spoke, stating that a lot more appeals are coming through. Jessica is a locum working with the SAAOs at the moment. The survival guide is progressing nicely (Emma is laying it up). D. S. suggested a document to show students how to use the drop in service, as sometimes he receives enquiries and he should not be handling this confidential information. M. S. asked how the office is coping with Adrian’s leave. F. S. stated that it is fine, however, there are just a huge number of cases, with a number due on the same day. A. S. suggested the Facebook page with the drop in hours. F. S. suggested when the website is running that students would be able to help themselves. O. M. asked when they are looking for a new staff member, F. S. stated when Adrian is back. F. S. also mentioned they trialled doing workshops, however, this did not work for a number of reasons. T. G. stated that postgraduate numbers are increasing and that we are requesting for another staff member in our SSAF agreement. F. S. also noted that generally students now come in with a draft, rather than starting from nothing.

Motion [170116-07]: To thank Francine, Marg and Jessica for their hard work, especially this month.

Motioned: Dhaval Shukla           Seconded: Karen Cochrane Carried.

8. New Draft Schedule 1 & Electoral Rules

Motion [170116-11]: To endorse the new draft schedule 1 & electoral rules
Motioned: Ahmed Suhaib           Seconded: Oliver Moore

9. Nominations of vacant office bearer positions

T. G. is leaving on the 31st January. He stated there needed to be an election for the president role and that a returning officer needs to be appointed for this election.

A. S. nominated T. G.

Motion [170116-12]: To appoint Thomas Greenwell as the returning officer
Motioned: Lily Matchett           Seconded: Gareth Charles Carried.

T. G. called for nominations from the floor. He received one nomination, a joint nomination from Ahmed Suhaib (A. S.) and Lily Matchett (L. M.).

A. S. and L. M. spoke. They have come to care a lot about SUPRA in other executive roles and hope to continue in the presidency. They hope to have relationship building within council, as well as increasing SUPRA’s visibility. They are also hoping to become involved in more hard hitting campaigns. They would seek input from all councillors to see their wishes. A. S. stated he has worked with almost everyone in the room and hopes to work together for postgraduate interests, despite the previous disdain within councillors.

An election was conducted. There were 2 options (Lily Matchett & Ahmed Suhaib; no candidate).

T. G. declared Ahmed Suhaib and Lily Matchett the successful candidate.

As of the 31st of January, A. S. and L. M. cannot hold their current positions, hence their positions will become vacated. T. G. asked Alexandra Nixon (A. N.), the co-VP with L. M. if she wished to continue fully in this role, or if there should be an election for half of the role. A. N. stated that she would like to nominate for half of education officer. M. S. suggested A. N. remain at the VP for now, then conduct an education officer election. Should A. N. then need to vacate her VP role, an election could occur after the education officer election.

T. G. called for nominations from the floor. He received one nomination from Alexandra Nixon (A. N.) and Rachel Evans (R. E.). A. N. stated that she has been involved in the education movement from 2010 at USyd. She is a left wing anti-racist, pro-worker and suffers a disability. She has mostly been involved in educational initiative (SCA campaign). She stated she has a great relationship with Rachel. R. E. stated that she has an activist role and has been the queer office bearer 2015-2016 – she did the rainbow campus and was also involved in save SCA> She has been involved since 2012 against the closure of Koori centre and the sacking of 320+ staff. In 2013, she had 6 strikes with the NTEU. She is an anti-racist feminist and a part of the socialist alliance. They hope to continue the SCA campaign. They spoke to VC Spence amalgamating 122 faculties into 22. R. E. stated that we are all being tested with the rise of Trump and Hanson and we should stop the tide of reaction. They are prepared to help SUPRA play a role in the upcoming battles.

M. S. stated that R. E. had missed more management committee meetings than she had attended, and that neither R. E. nor A. N. had been to either an educational committee meeting or a community & engagement meeting. She asked how they are planning to make extra time to commit to those. She also asked if they were planning on spending any time on social events, as these are equally as important in order to allow our students to network with other students in a non-politicised environment.

A. N. stated that it is important to galvanise the postgraduate community and we do this by social events. She has previously helped out with wine & cheers and also co-chaired policy committee and worked 3 jobs. She is currently only working 2. R. E. stated that whilst social events are important, she hopes to have a forum at these events to pitch campaigns as otherwise we are not doing our jobs as OBs. She stated that she was active with the SCA occupation.

Marco Avena entered 7:40pm

Alex spoke: in the duty statement – of equal importance – galvanising the postgraduate community and within the equity groups. In her role – wine & cheese (familiar with that), co-chairing policy committee and working 3 jobs – has 2 now. Had only scheduled for policy and ManComm, as well as WCC and academic board. Rachel: social events wine and cheese is important, our education committee meetings can host some coffee and cake to bring things in, could look at a forum/speakers/beers – free pizza, beer and a speaker – can do that to start off the beginning of the year. Unless we pitch a campaign to our constituency, free coffee is okay but we are not really doing our job as OBs. Can’t argue that they haven’t done community & engagement or the education committee. Remind us 6:40am at the SCA – occupying this place and the 65 days it took of which SUPRA has a better name than the SRC in supporting that battle
Marco Avena entered 7:40pm

An election was conducted. There were 2 options (Alexandra Nixon & Rachel Evans; no candidate).

T. G. declared Alexandra Nixon & Rachel Evans the successful candidate.

A. N. will be vacating her role as Vice-President. T. G. called for nominations from the floor. He received one nomination from Nick Avery and Karen Cochrane. K. C. stated that she was interested in policy and working with the government to change policy (she sits on CISA). She also hopes to work on the social events and work towards stress reduction in our students, as opposed to being on the campaign side of things. She things her and Nick would work well together. Nick Avery (N. A.) stated he was a political economy student and a recent councillor. He is an activist, feminist and a socialist. He is keen to make the most of their mutual skills. He would like to put the resources in support to activist groups (aboriginal communities), unconditional support for women’s collectives, as well as the university teaching/other staff in NTEU EBA.

An election was conducted. There were 2 options (Nick Avery & Karen Cochrane; no candidate).

T. G. declared Nick Avery & Karen Cochrane the successful candidate.

R. E. is requesting O. M. to be elected a deputy queer officer. O. M. stated they have been involved in queer activism for a while, including as the secretary for AQSN. They hope to work with all equity groups. M. S. stated she is excited to see what O. M. can bring to the portfolio.
